crypt@b-it 2012
16 - 20 July 2012,
b-it, Bonn, Germany.

This summer school on cryptography offers undergraduate and graduate students, as well as researchers, the opportunity to crypt a bit. It provides acquaintance and interaction in an intellectually stimulating and informal atmosphere in pleasant surroundings.

Speakers

- Joachim von zur Gathen, b-it Bonn,
- Valtteri Niemi, Nokia Research Center,
- Dennis Hofheinz, Karlsruhe Institute of Technology.

Programme

	Monday	Tuesday	Wednesday	Thursday	Friday
09:00-10:30	Valtteri Niemi, Mobile Security and Privacy
11:00-12:30	Dennis Hofheinz, Formal Arguments for Cryptographic Security
	Lunch break
14:00-15:30	Tutorials and exercises		Excursion	Tutorials and exercises	Enigma presentation, with an original machine from World War II. (To be confirmed.)
16:00-17:30					TBA

Registration

- The intended audience is undergraduate and graduate students, as well as postdocs and researchers, who work in the area, or at least have a basic knowledge.
- The registration fee for the event is 100€ for students (please send a certificate of study fom your university) and 500€ for others. This amount includes daily refreshments, lunch and the excursion.
- Registration: Register online(!) before Monday, June 4th 2012.
- Contact information and further details can be found on our webpage:
  http://cosec.bit.uni-bonn.de/students/events/cryptabit2012/